Sequim Real Estate Books

by Chuck Marunde, J.D.
Real Estate Broker & Atty (Ret.)

These are Sequim real estate books written by Chuck Marunde specifically for buyers. They are all available in eBook formats, and several are available in paperback. Buyers around the country from Alaska to Florida and Hawaii to New York read Chuck's books with two consistent comments. First, they say, "I got all my questions answered about buying real estate in the Sequim and Port Angeles area from a well established expert in real estate transactions and law," and secondly they say in various words something like, "I was well prepared to negotiate when I arrived to look at homes, because Chuck explained exactly how to determine what fair market value was in the current Sequim market."

If there is one book above all others that Chuck has written, it would be his latest, "Sequim Real Estate: A Buyer's Guide."

Sequim Real Estate Books - Buying Your Retirement Home

If you have an iPad, you might enjoy this book entitled, "Buying Your Retirement Home: How to Search For Your Home." This is easy reading, but it's not light reading. Chuck gets into the meat of how to search effectively for your home, and what sites to use. He shares insider secrets about sites that you don't want to be using. He also tells you how to filter through hundreds of online homes to your own short list of the best of the best.

You can find this eBook in the iBookstore and download it directly to your iPad. It's only $2.99.

Sequim Real Estate Books - How to Make an Offer

This is the second book among Chuck's Sequim real estate books, Buying Your Retirement Home. There is much more to making an offer and negotiating than most people realize, and an experienced negotiator can save you tens of thousands of dollars as I have for past clients. This book is also an iPad download, and it's only $2.99.

How much should you offer for your retirement home?

Learn how to value a home quickly.

Master fair market value, plus the tax assessor's website, comparables, and the replacement cost approach.

Avoid the big mistakes and negotiate the best price.

Take advantage of Chuck Marunde's lifetime of real estate experience when you buy your retirement home in Sequim or Port Angeles. In addition to Chuck's books, you'll find over 1,500 articles on his real estate blog written specifically about Sequim real estate issues. Then there are the other powerful resources for buyers, which you'll find through his blog. These real estate books can be very helpful.

The New World of Marketing for Real Estate Agents

Chuck wrote this book to help real estate agents around the country learn how to adapt their business model and to use the new technologies and Internet tools that buyers want and use enthusiastically now.

It is made available here only for curious clients who want to understand more about the major transitions in play in the real estate industry. Marketing homes today is dramatically different than it was years ago using the traditional tools of marketing.
